DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 18-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Abbenhouse et al.

Abbenhouse et al. discloses a fiber reinforced composite paddle blade having a "skeleton" 38,43 with at least one rib extending towards the outer periphery, and ending substantially at the periphery as claimed. The skeleton is covered top and bottom by a composite skin, and attached to shaft as claimed. The rib may be said to include the form 75, therefore, rib and blade are made of different materials as claimed.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-6,9,10 and 18-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Abbenhouse et al. in view of Sweetland.

Abbenhouse et al. discloses an inner "skeleton" 38,43 covered top and bottom by a composite skin, and attached to shaft as claimed. Abbenhouse et al. fails to show a grip as is old and well known in the art.

Art Unit: 3617

Sweetland shows the field of the invention, including a reduced diameter cylindrical portion 62, which longitudinally locks a grip therein. Sweetland teaches provision of holes 30 within the handle of the figure 3 embodiment for cooperating with formed "ridges" to secure the handle.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide Abbenhouse et al. a grip as taught by Sweetland.

Such a combination would have been desirable at the time of the invention so as to provide a sure grip for the user.

Re "injection molded", such is method of making, carrying no weight in the claims.

The exact plastic used in the construction is considered to have been an obvious design consideration.

Re "wing shaped", such fails to define any specific structure and/or arrangement so as to define over Abbenhouse et al.

Re "at least one rib that extends distally from the longitudinal centerline...", such fails to define over Abbenhouse, and the illustrated ribs are distant from the centerline, and extend towards the outer periphery.

5. Claims 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Abbenhouse et al. in view of Sweetland as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Bruce.

Bruce teaches a bent shaft.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide bent shaft portions to Abbenhouse as taught by Bruce.

Such a combination would have been desirable at the time the invention was made so as to provide a more ergonomic shape.

6. Applicant's arguments filed 12/26/2006 have been fully considered but are not deemed persuasive.

Applicant argues that Abbenhouse et al. fails to show the ribs extending "ending substantially at said outer periphery" as claimed.

In response, the examiner does not agree. Abbenhouse et al. shows in figure 1A the ribs extending "substantially" to the periphery as claimed. Substantially is relative, and is generally equivalent to "greater than one half" or "almost" or "very nearly" or the like. There is nothing in the meaning of the word so as to define over the extent of the ribs of Abbenhouse et al.
